

The entry point into Indiana's life sciences leadership network

BIOCROSSROADS NUCLEUS

A membership community for organizations that want to engage directly in the work shaping Indiana's life sciences sector.

What is Nucleus?

Nucleus is the formal pathway to engage in BioCrossroads' ecosystem—connecting members to the people, working groups, and initiatives driving innovation, talent, and growth across Indiana's life sciences sector.

Why Join Nucleus

- Participate in BioCrossroads working groups, shaping industry priorities
- Connect with senior leaders across industry, research, healthcare, and policy
- Gain visibility and influence within Indiana's life sciences ecosystem
- Access sponsorship and partnership opportunities across BioCrossroads platforms

How it Works and Key Benefits

Nucleus provides a structured way to engage directly in BioCrossroads' work and the broader life sciences ecosystem.

Members:

- Participate in current and emerging working groups shaping innovation, commercialization, manufacturing, and workforce priorities
- Engage directly with industry, university, healthcare, and policy leaders through convenings and collaborative forums
- Access exclusive networking opportunities across Indiana's life sciences ecosystem
- Receive complimentary tickets and preferred access to the annual BioCrossroads Life Sciences Summit
- Gain promotional visibility and preferred partner opportunities across BioCrossroads platforms
